CACDA Presents the First in a Series of Community Dialogues

Cazenovia, NY – On Tuesday, 11 November 2008 at 7:00 pm in the Cazenovia College McDonald Lecture Hall, Cazenovia Area Community Development Association (CACDA) will host the first in a series of Community Dialogues.

This series is intended to provide an opportunity for communication and dialogue among the many diverse constituencies that comprise our community. The inaugural program will focus on how our community's various organizations can work together more collaboratively and effectively.

The specific purpose of the events is to receive input from a range of community groups. Each dialogue will begin with brief presentations from several organizations, and will encourage discussion among all those present.

This program is free and open to the public. Representatives and members from all area organizations and municipalities are encouraged to attend.

CACDA enhances economic vitality and preserves the rural, historic character of our region through education, consensus-building and project implementation.

Since inception, for each $1 of individual investment, CACDA has facilitated $26.28 in community projects – a 2628% return on investment.

Individuals and corporations can support CACDA's programs through contributions and volunteer efforts. For more information, please call Barbara Henderson, Executive Director, at 655-7651 or e-mail director@cacda.net.
