New Guide for Nonprofit Disaster Planning Now Available on CACDA Website

Cazenovia, NY – CACDA (Cazenovia Area Community Development Association) has recently added a nonprofit emergency preparedness manual to its current website. The 'Guide for Disaster Planning and Recovery' focuses on successful maintenance of everyday technologies. It offers guidelines and simple strategies to prepare your organization for new challenges or opportunities, as well as information on how to recover from negative technology events.

Produced by Techsoup Global, the publication covers many topics, including documentation, backup, privacy, encryption and human-made disaster recovery. The manual can also be adapted for use by individual organizations. You can view this helpful document by visiting www.cacda.net and selecting 'Planning and Community Info'.

CACDA enhances economic vitality and preserves the rural, historic character of our region through education, consensus-building and project implementation.

Individuals and corporations can support CACDA's programs through contributions and volunteer efforts. For more information, please call Barbara Henderson, Executive Director, at 655-7651 or e-mail director@cacda.net.
